Why We Like to Cruise?

Cruising has become our favorite way to travel, and it's easy to see why. First, there's nothing quite like waking up in a new destination every day without the stress of packing, repacking, or sitting in airports. On a cruise, you unpack once, settle in, and let the journey come to you. It's the ultimate multi-destination vacation made simple.

We also love how cruises feel almost completely all-inclusive. Your accommodations, meals, entertainment, and transportation between destinations are wrapped into one experience, making budgeting far easier and eliminating surprise costs along the way.

Another huge advantage is the variety of ships available to match your travel style. Smaller ships offer a more intimate atmosphere with fewer guests and the ability to slip into charming ports that larger vessels can't reach. Mega ships, on the other hand, feel like floating resorts with Broadway-style shows, water parks, and endless activities. And for true adventure seekers, expedition ships open the door to once-in-a-lifetime destinations like Antarctica.

For us, cruising blends comfort, variety, and adventure in one unforgettable vacation.

What our clients are up to?

One of our solo travelers is heading to Costa Rica for an unforgettable land adventure. His journey includes the lush rainforests of La Fortuna, misty cloud forests of Monteverde, and the wildlife-rich beaches of Manuel Antonio National Park. Along the way, he'll also explore vibrant San José, relax in natural hot springs, and discover hidden waterfalls deep in the jungle.

Our family members, along with a group of close friends, recently set sail on a spectacular Greece cruise departing from Rome, and it was nothing short of unforgettable. Their journey took them to the historic streets of Naples, the rich culture and cuisine of Sicily, and onward to the iconic Greek islands of Santorini and Mykonos. From cliffside sunsets and whitewashed villages to bustling piazzas and seaside cafés, every stop delivered something new. It was the perfect blend of ancient history, vibrant culture, breathtaking scenery, and effortless travel all in one remarkable voyage.

Jeff & Dianna's Current Adventures

Our most recent adventure was a once-in-a-lifetime journey from the heart of the Amazon to the frozen edges of Antarctica. We began by cruising the Amazon River, surrounded by lush rainforest, colorful birds, and the distant sounds of wildlife echoing through the jungle canopy. From there we traveled south to the vibrant energy of Rio de Janeiro, then relaxed along the beautiful beaches of Camboriu.

In Montevideo, we explored charming historic streets, enjoyed local cuisine, and soaked in the laid-back rhythm of Uruguay's capital. As the voyage continued, the scenery turned increasingly remote and dramatic. The rugged Falkland Islands introduced us to remarkable wildlife, while South Georgia impressed us with towering mountains, massive glaciers, and endless penguin colonies. Finally, we reached Antarctica, where silent ice fields and glowing blue icebergs created a surreal and unforgettable ending to an extraordinary journey across two worlds.
